

PAUSE IN THE RATE WAR

Present Quiet Prospect Likely to Change to Noisy Contest This Week.

FIVE-DOLLAR RATE APPEALS TO PUBLIC

Milwaukee Road Has Not Yet Announced Its Intention, but It Seems Certain that Something Will Break Loose Later.

The rate war seems to be at a standstill, although there is still another week for something to break loose in the strife for the people who are seeking Milwaukee to attend the Woodmen's convention. Four roads have announced a fare of $5 to Chicago and return, the Burlington, Rock Island, Chicago Great Western and the Illinois Central. The Northwestern has given it out that it will not participate in the cut, but will be satisfied to haul the Woodmen to Milwaukee on a $5 basis from Lincoln. The Milwaukee has said nothing, but from the winks that float around it may be that it intends to cut loose before the week is over.

There is no way to estimate the number of people who will be attracted by the $5 rate to Chicago, but if one is to judge from the inquiries at the ticket offices and from the conversations one hears on the street cars and street corners it would seem that one-half of the town intends to go to Chicago on the $5 rate. Some of the retail merchants have registered a kick against the wholesale exodus, claiming that while people can buy just as cheaply in Omaha, there will be a world of money spent by shoppers when they go to Chicago. It should be spent in this city. The railroad men, however, claim there is no money for them in these kinds of excursions, a class of people who are not used to travel and they are far more liable to accident than the usual run of travelers.

Other Rate Wars Recalled.

There have been many passenger rate wars in the past and some were so far back that the oldest inhabitant has nearly forgotten all about them. About twenty years ago, when the Santa Fe was about completed and there was some sort of a convention at San Francisco, the Union Pacific undertook to carry passengers from Omaha to San Francisco and return for $10. The scene at the old cattle shed that served for so many years as a union depot for Omaha were never to be forgotten by those who had occasion to be there. Stebbins was general ticket agent of the Union Pacific and J. K. Chamberlain was selling tickets at the window. The room was always jammed with people who stood back and valued their $5 bills, calling them "wanted one of them." The tickets ran out and substitutes were used in the shape of a small card ticket, similar to those sold to Papillon, which was good for a round trip.

Several years ago, on the occasion of the Nebraska football game at Minneapolis, there was quite a merry war for the business. The Northwestern and Rock Island made a rate of $3 for the round trip from Lincoln to Minneapolis. The Burlington, not having a direct line, did not participate in the cut, but maintained the rate at $5. After the Northwestern and Rock Island had filled all their own coaches and all that they could borrow from other roads, there was still a large number of people who wished to go. Then was when the Burlington stepped in and got the gravy. The Burlington hauled 82 people at $5.50 apiece. The other roads hauled 1,500.

A rate was made at one time by the Northwestern of $1 from Omaha to Chicago and return, and years ago the Diagonal, as it was then called—now the Chicago, Great Western—made a rate of $1 from Council Bluffs to Chicago and return. These tickets could only be bought at certain places, and there was quite a skirmish to get them.

Low rates have been made by the Burlington from Omaha to Denver and return, and a few years ago there was a rate in connection with the Klondike business by which a passenger, by paying full price and getting a rebate, could travel from Omaha to Portland and return for a net price of $18.

One War that Fizzled.

Joe Teahon, traveling passenger agent of the Wabash, tells of a rate war in Omaha that fizzled out. About seventeen years ago the Northwestern ticket office was in its present location and the Wabash ticket office was located where the Burlington now is. The national convention of the Knights of Pythias was to be held in Cincinnati. The Wabash was then called the Wabash, St. Louis & Pacific and Frank E. Moores was the local agent and H. E. Babcock was agent for the Northwestern. The rate one way to Cincinnati was $15.50, and Babcock cut the rate to $9 for the round trip, and had a huge sign printed and stretched across the sidewalk, telling the dear public that here was the official route and headquarters for the Knights of Pythias. He was cut down by the head officials of the road at Chicago, who wired that they were satisfied to get 50 cents for crossing the bridge from every person that the Wabash hauled. Babcock was therefore obliged to take down his sign and he carried it over to Moores, who it is up and hauled the people at $15 per for the round trip.

DUNN VOUCHERS FOR THOMAS

Attorney for Noise Secures Endorsement for Attorney for Civic Federation.

At its regular quarterly meeting last evening the Omaha Bar association passed resolutions to have its executive council and judiciary committee once take up the matter of getting pending cases disposed of more rapidly and to have, if possible, a more secret contrivance provided in court from which the names of jurors shall be drawn. The association also, on motion of J. J. Dunn, supported by G. W. Simmer, passed a resolution of commendation in honor of E. Thomas as a member of the body and as a citizen. Ed P. Smith expressed the opinion that the association could not undertake to settle every personal quarrel between members of the association, and moved to lay the resolution on the table, but was voted down.

The resolution aimed at facilitating court work was offered by E. P. Smith and it is to the effect that the executive council endeavor to have the judges of the district court open the full term on September 10 and to present to the court the law books, as, as noted in The Bee recently, very much overcrowded and from one to two years behind on cases.

Reports from members of the inquiry committee covered charges against members, the instance case in which the charges were found to have been sustained being in the case of Alex A. Aitschuler, alleged to have been guilty of unprofessional conduct. The committee recommended disbarment, but Mr. Aitschuler is at present out of the jurisdiction of the Nebraska courts and the matter is up in the air.

Charles E. Foster, W. N. Chambers, C. H. von Mansfeldt, E. Russell Ewins, Hons T. Peterson and Herbert S. Daniels were admitted to membership and one application was rejected.

At a meeting of the lawyers indulged in a social session, with refreshments and impromptu entertainment.

MANAWA'S MANY ATTRACTIONS

Lake Resort Offers a Variety of Improvements to Pleasure Seekers.

The biggest program of free shows presented at Lake Manawa this season is announced for today. Prominent on the list will be the Aerial Stunts, a man, woman and boy, who perform a variety of gaudy and difficult "stunts" on the Spanish rings including some of their own original. At the Casino an entirely new and mixed scene of kineoscope pictures will be presented. At 6:30 p. m. Prof. Andrews will make one of his aerial stunts, with a parachute jump. At 8 p. m. Bert Fackler will perform the high dive from his lofty tower, and at 9 p. m. the fire dive, in which he is enveloped in scorching flames. Covall's band will render music from 7 to 10 p. m., offering an entire change of program, including both classical and popular compositions.

The warm weather has stimulated bathing very much and Manhattan beach has seen a natural place among the pastimes since the number of people patronizing it has grown large. Five launches will be put into service today to carry passengers across the lake, which will afford a three minute service. The Neumeyers and the Farrells will play in the park at 3:30 p. m. The bowling alleys, rowboats, merry-go-round, shooting galleries, baby carriages and other pastime devices add variety to the manner in which one may amuse himself besides seeing the entire program of shows free of charge, there being no admission charged to enter the park. The street railway company will run extra cars on the Manawa line to expedite the movement of the crowd.

OMAHA LEADS CITIES IN GAIN

Eastern Publication Prints Building Statistics Highly Complimentary to the Nebraska Metropolis.

In the latest issue of the Construction News, a real estate journal published in New York City, there is published a brief report on the building records for twenty-one of the principal cities in the United States. This shows the increase and decrease of the building records for the month of May of the present year as compared with the records of the same month a year ago. The report shows that Omaha has made a gain of 183 per cent over the record made a year ago, which is 42 per cent more than the next highest city in rank, which is Cleveland, O.

Out of the twenty-nine cities whose record is published only seven show a decrease. The largest decrease is at Tacoma, which shows a falling off of 41 per cent over the month of May during the year 1904.

The record for Baltimore shows a falling off of 18 per cent, which, according to the Construction News, is due to the conflagration in that city over a year ago. In New York, Manhattan and the Bronx a falling off of 10 per cent is shown. San Francisco, New Orleans and Pittsburgh are among the cities which show a decrease. The compilation indicates that Omaha is keeping up its pace among the leading cities in the country in the effort to rebuild and rank high among the cities of the United States.

FINE HOME TO BE ERECTED

Twenty-Five Thousand Dollar Residence for Mrs. John A. Harbach.

One more $25,000 residence soon is to be added to the large quota of magnificent dwellings erected and being erected in Omaha. Mrs. John A. Harbach will have the building constructed as soon as the successful contractor secures the job. Bids are now being considered. The architect, Edward J. McDonald, has drawn the plans. This building is to stand at Thirty-second and Dodge streets and will become the home of Mrs. John G. Bourke and daughters. Mrs. Bourke is the daughter of Mrs. Harbach and is now in the east where her daughters are attending or being graduated from school.

AFFAIRS AT SOUTH OMAHA

Union Pacific Building a New Track on Railroad Avenue.

CITY TRACK TO RUN FROM O TO N STREETS

Two More Bad Checks Turn Up and John Sivinski is Identified as the Man Who Passed Them on Two Saloon Keepers.

The Union Pacific railroad has commenced making improvements in the vicinity of N street. Under an agreement entered into with the city some twenty years ago the Union Pacific owns the west thirty-three feet of Railroad avenue from the depot to about W street. A large force of men worked Friday laying an additional track along the company's property on Railroad avenue from Q street north to the north line of N street. This new track is to be used for a city track. The stone pavement had to be torn up in order that the tracks might be put down, and a great many people wondered what was to become of the paving blocks. Inquiry at the city engineer's office resulted in the information that at the time Railroad avenue was paved the Union Pacific paid for this thirty feet and that the company can do what it pleases with the paving stones. In addition to the laying of the new track a fence is being built. Up to noon Saturday the fence had been completed on the east side of the tracks from W street to the Q street viaduct. As fast as carpenters finished a stretch of fence painters followed and put a coat of paint on the fence. The fence which is to be built from L street to W street. This is done in order that cars of merchandise destined to merchants here may be under the protection of the local police force and watchmen. At all times of the day and night such cars will be in the street and breaking into cars standing on the track will be considerably lessened.

When the fence is completed cars to be set on the city track will be left through a gate near the Q street viaduct and can run north nearly to the present depot. The east portion of the present Railroad avenue as far south as the Q street viaduct will be left intact and cars can be loaded and unloaded at any time.

It was reported on the streets last evening that the fencing gang would work today so as to complete the fence to the L street viaduct. This fence is a tight board structure about ten feet high and will have a couple of strands of barbed wire on top so as to prevent people from crossing the tracks at N street and to keep all unauthorized persons out of the railroad yards. By the moving of the city track to the east room will be made for a storage track on the west side of the fence. As it is now the railroad yards are crowded, and every additional block or two of tracks helps out.

More Bad Checks.

Saturday two more bogus checks, alleged to have been passed by John Sivinski, turned up and are now in the hands of the police. The checks for $50 and were passed on the liquor dealers. The address on the checks called at police headquarters and identified Sivinski as the man who secured the money on the bogus checks. The checks were the same as those passed a week ago when Sivinski was arrested and bound over to the district court for the sum of $50. Frank Woods, the supposed partner of Sivinski, is again in jail. Captain Shields is satisfied that Woods had blank checks to do with the stealing of the blank checks from Lobman & Rothchild's office at the exchange. When Sivinski was first tried for the bogus checks, he was charged with the stealing of a safe from the store of Frank Woods, the supposed partner of Sivinski, is again in jail. Captain Shields is satisfied that Woods had blank checks to do with the stealing of the blank checks from Lobman & Rothchild's office at the exchange. When Sivinski was first tried for the bogus checks, he was charged with the stealing of a safe from the store of Frank Woods, the supposed partner of Sivinski, is again in jail. Captain Shields is satisfied that Woods had blank checks to do with the stealing of the blank checks from Lobman & Rothchild's office at the exchange. When Sivinski was first tried for the bogus checks, he was charged with the stealing of a safe from the store of Frank Woods, the supposed partner of Sivinski, is again in jail. Captain Shields is satisfied that Woods had blank checks to do with the stealing of the blank checks from Lobman & Rothchild's office at the exchange. When Sivinski was first tried for the bogus checks, he was charged with the stealing of a safe from the store of Frank Woods, the supposed partner of Sivinski, is again in jail. Captain Shields is satisfied that Woods had blank checks to do with the stealing of the blank checks from Lobman & Rothchild's office at the exchange. When Sivinski was first tried for the bogus checks, he was charged with the stealing of a safe from the store of Frank Woods, the supposed partner of Sivinski, is again in jail. Captain Shields is satisfied that Woods had blank checks to do with the stealing of the blank checks from Lobman & Rothchild's office at the exchange. When Sivinski was first tried for the bogus checks, he was charged with the stealing of a safe from the store of Frank Woods, the supposed partner of Sivinski, is again in jail. Captain Shields is satisfied that Woods had blank checks to do with the stealing of the blank checks from Lobman & Rothchild's office at the exchange. When Sivinski was first tried for the bogus checks, he was charged with the stealing of a safe from the store of Frank Woods, the supposed partner of Sivinski, is again in jail. Captain Shields is satisfied that Woods had blank checks to do with the stealing of the blank checks from Lobman & Rothchild's office at the exchange. When Sivinski was first tried for the bogus checks, he was charged with the stealing of a safe from the store of Frank Woods, the supposed partner of Sivinski, is again in jail. Captain Shields is satisfied that Woods had blank checks to do with the stealing of the blank checks from Lobman & Rothchild's office at the exchange. When Sivinski was first tried for the bogus checks, he was charged with the stealing of a safe from the store of Frank Woods, the supposed partner of Sivinski, is again in jail. Captain Shields is satisfied that Woods had blank checks to do with the stealing of the blank checks from Lobman & Rothchild's office at the exchange. When Sivinski was first tried for the bogus checks, he was charged with the stealing of a safe from the store of Frank Woods, the supposed partner of Sivinski, is again in jail. Captain Shields is satisfied that Woods had blank checks to do with the stealing of the blank checks from Lobman & Rothchild's office at the exchange. When Sivinski was first tried for the bogus checks, he was charged with the stealing of a safe from the store of Frank Woods, the supposed partner of Sivinski, is again in jail. Captain Shields is satisfied that Woods had blank checks to do with the stealing of the blank checks from Lobman & Rothchild's office at the exchange. When Sivinski was first tried for the bogus checks, he was charged with the stealing of a safe from the store of Frank Woods, the supposed partner of Sivinski, is again in jail. Captain Shields is satisfied that Woods had blank checks to do with the stealing of the blank checks from Lobman & Rothchild's office at the exchange. When Sivinski was first tried for the bogus checks, he was charged with the stealing of a safe from the store of Frank Woods, the supposed partner of Sivinski, is again in jail. Captain Shields is satisfied that Woods had blank checks to do with the stealing of the blank checks from Lobman & Rothchild's office at the exchange. When Sivinski was first tried for the bogus checks, he was charged with the stealing of a safe from the store of Frank Woods, the supposed partner of Sivinski, is again in jail. Captain Shields is satisfied that Woods had blank checks to do with the stealing of the blank checks from Lobman & Rothchild's office at the exchange. When Sivinski was first tried for the bogus checks, he was charged with the stealing of a safe from the store of Frank Woods, the supposed partner of Sivinski, is again in jail. Captain Shields is satisfied that Woods had blank checks to do with the stealing of the blank checks from Lobman & Rothchild's office at the exchange. When Sivinski was first tried for the bogus checks, he was charged with the stealing of a safe from the store of Frank Woods, the supposed partner of Sivinski, is again in jail. Captain Shields is satisfied that Woods had blank checks to do with the stealing of the blank checks from Lobman & Rothchild's office at the exchange. When Sivinski was first tried for the bogus checks, he was charged with the stealing of a safe from the store of Frank Woods, the supposed partner of Sivinski, is again in jail. Captain Shields is satisfied that Woods had blank checks to do with the stealing of the blank checks from Lobman & Rothchild's office at the exchange. When Sivinski was first tried for the bogus checks, he was charged with the stealing of a safe from the store of Frank Woods, the supposed partner of Sivinski, is again in jail. Captain Shields is satisfied that Woods had blank checks to do with the stealing of the blank checks from Lobman & Rothchild's office at the exchange. When Sivinski was first tried for the bogus checks, he was charged with the stealing of a safe from the store of Frank Woods, the supposed partner of Sivinski, is again in jail. Captain Shields is satisfied that Woods had blank checks to do with the stealing of the blank checks from Lobman & Rothchild's office at the exchange. When Sivinski was first tried for the bogus checks, he was charged with the stealing of a safe from the store of Frank Woods, the supposed partner of Sivinski, is again in jail. Captain Shields is satisfied that Woods had blank checks to do with the stealing of the blank checks from Lobman & Rothchild's office at the exchange. When Sivinski was first tried for the bogus checks, he was charged with the stealing of a safe from the store of Frank Woods, the supposed partner of Sivinski, is again in jail. Captain Shields is satisfied that Woods had blank checks to do with the stealing of the blank checks from Lobman & Rothchild's office at the exchange. When Sivinski was first tried for the bogus checks, he was charged with the stealing of a safe from the store of Frank Woods, the supposed partner of Sivinski, is again in jail. Captain Shields is satisfied that Woods had blank checks to do with the stealing of the blank checks from Lobman & Rothchild's office at the exchange. When Sivinski was first tried for the bogus checks, he was charged with the stealing of a safe from the store of Frank Woods, the supposed partner of Sivinski, is again in jail. Captain Shields is satisfied that Woods had blank checks to do with the stealing of the blank checks from Lobman & Rothchild's office at the exchange. When Sivinski was first tried for the bogus checks, he was charged with the stealing of a safe from the store of Frank Woods, the supposed partner of Sivinski, is again in jail. Captain Shields is satisfied that Woods had blank checks to do with the stealing of the blank checks from Lobman & Rothchild's office at the exchange. When Sivinski was first tried for the bogus checks, he was charged with the stealing of a safe from the store of Frank Woods, the supposed partner of Sivinski, is again in jail. Captain Shields is satisfied that Woods had blank checks to do with the stealing of the blank checks from Lobman & Rothchild's office at the exchange. When Sivinski was first tried for the bogus checks, he was charged with the stealing of a safe from the store of Frank Woods, the supposed partner of Sivinski, is again in jail. Captain Shields is satisfied that Woods had blank checks to do with the stealing of the blank checks from Lobman & Rothchild's office at the exchange. When Sivinski was first tried for the bogus checks, he was charged with the stealing of a safe from the store of Frank Woods, the supposed partner of Sivinski, is again in jail. Captain Shields is satisfied that Woods had blank checks to do with the stealing of the blank checks from Lobman & Rothchild's office at the exchange. When Sivinski was first tried for the bogus checks, he was charged with the stealing of a safe from the store of Frank Woods, the supposed partner of Sivinski, is again in jail. Captain Shields is satisfied that Woods had blank checks to do with the stealing of the blank checks from Lobman & Rothchild's office at the exchange. When Sivinski was first tried for the bogus checks, he was charged with the stealing of a safe from the store of Frank Woods, the supposed partner of Sivinski, is again in jail. Captain Shields is satisfied that Woods had blank checks to do with the stealing of the blank checks from Lobman & Rothchild's office at the exchange. When Sivinski was first tried for the bogus checks, he was charged with the stealing of a safe from the store of Frank Woods, the supposed partner of Sivinski, is again in jail. Captain Shields is satisfied that Woods had blank checks to do with the stealing of the blank checks from Lobman & Rothchild's office at the exchange. When Sivinski was first tried for the bogus checks, he was charged with the stealing of a safe from the store of Frank Woods, the supposed partner of Sivinski, is again in jail. Captain Shields is satisfied that Woods had blank checks to do with the stealing of the blank checks from Lobman & Rothchild's office at the exchange. When Sivinski was first tried for the bogus checks, he was charged with the stealing of a safe from the store of Frank Woods, the supposed partner of Sivinski, is again in jail. Captain Shields is satisfied that Woods had blank checks to do with the stealing of the blank checks from Lobman & Rothchild's office at the exchange. When Sivinski was first tried for the bogus checks, he was charged with the stealing of a safe from the store of Frank Woods, the supposed partner of Sivinski, is again in jail. Captain Shields is satisfied that Woods had blank checks to do with the stealing of the blank checks from Lobman & Rothchild's office at the exchange. When Sivinski was first tried for the bogus checks, he was charged with the stealing of a safe from the store of Frank Woods, the supposed partner of Sivinski, is again in jail. Captain Shields is satisfied that Woods had blank checks to do with the stealing of the blank checks from Lobman & Rothchild's office at the exchange. When Sivinski was first tried for the bogus checks, he was charged with the stealing of a safe from the store of Frank Woods, the supposed partner of Sivinski, is again in jail. Captain Shields is satisfied that Woods had blank checks to do with the stealing of the blank checks from Lobman & Rothchild's office at the exchange. When Sivinski was first tried for the bogus checks, he was charged with the stealing of a safe from the store of Frank Woods, the supposed partner of Sivinski, is again in jail. Captain Shields is satisfied that Woods had blank checks to do with the stealing of the blank checks from Lobman & Rothchild's office at the exchange. When Sivinski was first tried for the bogus checks, he was charged with the stealing of a safe from the store of Frank Woods, the supposed partner of Sivinski, is again in jail. Captain Shields is satisfied that Woods had blank checks to do with the stealing of the blank checks from Lobman & Rothchild's office at the exchange. When Sivinski was first tried for the bogus checks, he was charged with the stealing of a safe from the store of Frank Woods, the supposed partner of Sivinski, is again in jail. Captain Shields is satisfied that Woods had blank checks to do with the stealing of the blank checks from Lobman & Rothchild's office at the exchange. When Sivinski was first tried for the bogus checks, he was charged with the stealing of a safe from the store of Frank Woods, the supposed partner of Sivinski, is again in jail. Captain Shields is satisfied that Woods had blank checks to do with the stealing of the blank checks from Lobman & Rothchild's office at the exchange. When Sivinski was first tried for the bogus checks, he was charged with the stealing of a safe from the store of Frank Woods, the supposed partner of Sivinski, is again in jail. Captain Shields is satisfied that Woods had blank checks to do with the stealing of the blank checks from Lobman & Rothchild's office at the exchange. When Sivinski was first tried for the bogus checks, he was charged with the stealing of a safe from the store of Frank Woods, the supposed partner of Sivinski, is again in jail. Captain Shields is satisfied that Woods had blank checks to do with the stealing of the blank checks from Lobman & Rothchild's office at the exchange. When Sivinski was first tried for the bogus checks, he was charged with the stealing of a safe from the store of Frank Woods, the supposed partner of Sivinski, is again in jail. Captain Shields is satisfied that Woods had blank checks to do with the stealing of the blank checks from Lobman & Rothchild's office at the exchange. When Sivinski was first tried for the bogus checks, he was charged with the stealing of a safe from the store of Frank Woods, the supposed partner of Sivinski, is again in jail. Captain Shields is satisfied that Woods had blank checks to do with the stealing of the blank checks from Lobman & Rothchild's office at the exchange. When Sivinski was first tried for the bogus checks, he was charged with the stealing of a safe from the store of Frank Woods, the supposed partner of Sivinski, is again in jail. Captain Shields is satisfied that Woods had blank checks to do with the stealing of the blank checks from Lobman & Rothchild's office at the exchange. When Sivinski was first tried for the bogus checks, he was charged with the stealing of a safe from the store of Frank Woods, the supposed partner of Sivinski, is again in jail. Captain Shields is satisfied that Woods had blank checks to do with the stealing of the blank checks from Lobman & Rothchild's office at the exchange. When Sivinski was first tried for the bogus checks, he was charged with the stealing of a safe from the store of Frank Woods, the supposed partner of Sivinski, is again in jail. Captain Shields is satisfied that Woods had blank checks to do with the stealing of the blank checks from Lobman & Rothchild's office at the exchange. When Sivinski was first tried for the bogus checks, he was charged with the stealing of a safe from the store of Frank Woods, the supposed partner of Sivinski, is again in jail. Captain Shields is satisfied that Woods had blank checks to do with the stealing of the blank checks from Lobman & Rothchild's office at the exchange. When Sivinski was first tried for the bogus checks, he was charged with the stealing of a safe from the store of Frank Woods, the supposed partner of Sivinski, is again in jail. Captain Shields is satisfied that Woods had blank checks to do with the stealing of the blank checks from Lobman & Rothchild's office at the exchange. When Sivinski was first tried for the bogus checks, he was charged with the stealing of a safe from the store of Frank Woods, the supposed partner of Sivinski, is again in jail. Captain Shields is satisfied that Woods had blank checks to do with the stealing of the blank checks from Lobman & Rothchild's office at the exchange. When Sivinski was first tried for the bogus checks, he was charged with the stealing of a safe from the store of Frank Woods, the supposed partner of Sivinski, is again in jail. Captain Shields is satisfied that Woods had blank checks to do with the stealing of the blank checks from Lobman & Rothchild's office at the exchange. When Sivinski was first tried for the bogus checks, he was charged with the stealing of a safe from the store of Frank Woods, the supposed partner of Sivinski, is again in jail. Captain Shields is satisfied that Woods had blank checks to do with the stealing of the blank checks from Lobman & Rothchild's office at the exchange. When Sivinski was first tried for the bogus checks, he was charged with the stealing of a safe from the store of Frank Woods, the supposed partner of Sivinski, is again in jail. Captain Shields is satisfied that Woods had blank checks to do with the stealing of the blank checks from Lobman & Rothchild's office at the exchange. When Sivinski was first tried for the bogus checks, he was charged with the stealing of a safe from the store of Frank Woods, the supposed partner of Sivinski, is again in jail. Captain Shields is satisfied that Woods had blank checks to do with the stealing of the blank checks from Lobman & Rothchild's office at the exchange. When Sivinski was first tried for the bogus checks, he was charged with the stealing of a safe from the store of Frank Woods, the supposed partner of Sivinski, is again in jail. Captain Shields is satisfied that Woods had blank checks to do with the stealing of the blank checks from Lobman & Rothchild's office at the exchange. When Sivinski was first tried for the bogus checks, he was charged with the stealing of a safe from the store of Frank Woods, the supposed partner of Sivinski, is again in jail. Captain Shields is satisfied that Woods had blank checks to do with the stealing of the blank checks from Lobman & Rothchild's office at the exchange. When Sivinski was first tried for the bogus checks, he was charged with the stealing of a safe from the store of Frank Woods, the supposed partner of Sivinski, is again in jail. Captain Shields is satisfied that Woods had blank checks to do with the stealing of the blank checks from Lobman & Rothchild's office at the exchange. When Sivinski was first tried for the bogus checks, he was charged with the stealing of a safe from the store of Frank Woods, the supposed partner of Sivinski, is again in jail. Captain Shields is satisfied that Woods had blank checks to do with the stealing of the blank checks from Lobman & Rothchild's office at the exchange. When Sivinski was first tried for the bogus checks, he was charged with the stealing of a safe from the store of Frank Woods, the supposed partner of Sivinski, is again in jail. Captain Shields is satisfied that Woods had blank checks to do with the stealing of the blank checks from Lobman & Rothchild's office at the exchange. When Sivinski was first tried for the bogus checks, he was charged with the stealing of a safe from the store of Frank Woods, the supposed partner of Sivinski, is again in jail. Captain Shields is satisfied that Woods had blank checks to do with the stealing of the blank checks from Lobman & Rothchild's office at the exchange. When Sivinski was first tried for the bogus checks, he was charged with the stealing of a safe from the store of Frank Woods, the supposed partner of Sivinski, is again in jail. Captain Shields is satisfied that Woods had blank checks to do with the stealing of the blank checks from Lobman & Rothchild's office at the exchange. When Sivinski was first tried for the bogus checks, he was charged with the stealing of a safe from the store of Frank Woods, the supposed partner of Sivinski, is again in jail. Captain Shields is satisfied that Woods had blank checks to do with the stealing of the blank checks from Lobman & Rothchild's office at the exchange. When Sivinski was first tried for the bogus checks, he was charged with the stealing of a safe from the store of Frank Woods, the supposed partner of Sivinski, is again in jail. Captain Shields is satisfied that Woods had blank checks to do with the stealing of the blank checks from Lobman & Rothchild's office at the exchange. When Sivinski was first tried for the bogus checks, he was charged with the stealing of a safe from the store of Frank Woods, the supposed partner of Sivinski, is again in jail. Captain Shields is satisfied that Woods had blank checks to do with the stealing of the blank checks from Lobman & Rothchild's office at the exchange. When Sivinski was first tried for the bogus checks, he was charged with the stealing of a safe from the store of Frank Woods, the supposed partner of Sivinski, is again in jail. Captain Shields is satisfied that Woods had blank checks to do with the stealing of the blank checks from Lobman & Rothchild's office at the exchange. When Sivinski was first tried for the bogus checks, he was charged with the stealing of a safe from the store of Frank Woods, the supposed partner of Sivinski, is again in jail. Captain Shields is satisfied that Woods had blank checks to do with the stealing of the blank checks from Lobman & Rothchild's office at the exchange. When Sivinski was first tried for the bogus checks, he was charged with the stealing of a safe from the store of Frank Woods, the supposed partner of Sivinski, is again in jail. Captain Shields is satisfied that Woods had blank checks to do with the stealing of the blank checks from Lobman & Rothchild's office at the exchange. When Sivinski was first tried for the bogus checks, he was charged with the stealing of a safe from the store of Frank Woods, the supposed partner of Sivinski, is again in jail. Captain Shields is satisfied that Woods had blank checks to do with the stealing of the blank checks from Lobman & Rothchild's office at the exchange. When Sivinski was first tried for the bogus checks, he was charged with the stealing of a safe from the store of Frank Woods, the supposed partner of Sivinski, is again in jail. Captain Shields is satisfied that Woods had blank checks to do with the stealing of the blank checks from Lobman & Rothchild's office at the exchange. When Sivinski was first tried for the bogus checks, he was charged with the stealing of a safe from the store of Frank Woods, the supposed partner of Sivinski, is again in jail. Captain Shields is satisfied that Woods had blank checks to do with the stealing of the blank checks from Lobman & Rothchild's office at the exchange. When Sivinski was first tried for the bogus checks, he was charged with the stealing of a safe from the store of Frank Woods, the supposed partner of Sivinski, is again in jail. Captain Shields is satisfied that Woods had blank checks to do with the stealing of the blank checks from Lobman & Rothchild's office at the exchange. When Sivinski was first tried for the bogus checks, he was charged with the stealing of a safe from the store of Frank Woods, the supposed partner of Sivinski, is again in jail. Captain Shields is satisfied that Woods had blank checks to do with the stealing of the blank checks from Lobman & Rothchild's office at the exchange. When Sivinski was first tried for the bogus checks, he was charged with the stealing of a safe from the store of Frank Woods, the supposed partner of Sivinski, is again in jail. Captain Shields is satisfied that Woods had blank checks to do with the stealing of the blank checks from Lobman & Rothchild's office at the exchange. When Sivinski was first tried for the bogus checks, he was charged with the stealing of a safe from the store of Frank Woods, the supposed partner of Sivinski, is again in jail. Captain Shields is satisfied that Woods had blank checks to do with the stealing of the blank checks from Lobman & Rothchild's office at the exchange. When Sivinski was first tried for the bogus checks, he was charged with the stealing of a safe from the store of Frank Woods, the supposed partner of Sivinski, is again in jail. Captain Shields is satisfied that Woods had blank checks to do with the stealing of the blank checks from Lobman & Rothchild's office at the exchange. When Sivinski was first tried for the bogus checks, he was charged with the stealing of a safe from the store of Frank Woods, the supposed partner of Sivinski, is again in jail. Captain Shields is satisfied that Woods had blank checks to do with the stealing of the blank checks from Lobman & Rothchild's office at the exchange. When Sivinski was first tried for the bogus checks, he was charged with the stealing of a safe from the store of Frank Woods, the supposed partner of Sivinski, is again in jail. Captain Shields is satisfied that Woods had blank checks to do with the stealing of the blank checks from Lobman & Rothchild's office at the exchange. When Sivinski was first tried for the bogus checks, he was charged with the stealing of a safe from the store of Frank Woods, the supposed partner of Sivinski, is again in jail. Captain Shields is satisfied that Woods had blank checks to do with the stealing of the blank checks from Lobman & Rothchild's office at the exchange. When Sivinski was first tried for the bogus checks, he was charged with the stealing of a safe from the store of Frank Woods, the supposed partner of Sivinski, is again in jail. Captain Shields is satisfied that Woods had blank checks to do with the stealing of the blank checks from Lobman & Rothchild's office at the exchange. When Sivinski was first tried for the bogus checks, he was charged with the stealing of a safe from the store of Frank Woods, the supposed partner of Sivinski, is again in jail. Captain Shields is satisfied that Woods had blank checks to do with the stealing of the blank checks from Lobman & Rothchild's office at the exchange. When Sivinski was first tried for the bogus checks, he was charged with the stealing of a safe from the store of Frank Woods, the supposed partner of Sivinski, is again in jail. Captain Shields is satisfied that Woods had blank checks to do with the stealing of the blank checks from Lobman & Rothchild's office at the exchange. When Sivinski was first tried for the bogus checks, he was charged with the stealing of a safe from the store of Frank Woods, the supposed partner of Sivinski, is again in jail. Captain Shields is satisfied that Woods had blank checks to do with the stealing of the blank checks from Lobman & Rothchild's office at the exchange. When Sivinski was first tried for the bogus checks, he was charged with the stealing of a safe from the store of Frank Woods, the supposed partner of Sivinski, is again in jail. Captain Shields is satisfied that Woods had blank checks to do with the stealing of the blank checks from Lobman & Rothchild's office at the exchange. When Sivinski was first tried for the bogus checks, he was charged with the stealing of a safe from the store of Frank Woods, the supposed partner of Sivinski, is again in jail. Captain Shields is satisfied that Woods had blank checks to do with the stealing of the blank checks from Lobman & Rothchild's office at the exchange. When Sivinski was first tried for the bogus checks, he was charged with the stealing of a safe from the store of Frank Woods, the supposed partner of Sivinski, is again in jail. Captain Shields is satisfied that Woods had blank checks to do with the stealing of the blank checks from Lobman & Rothchild's office at the exchange. When Sivinski was first tried for the bogus checks, he was charged with the stealing of a safe from the store of Frank Woods, the supposed partner of Sivinski, is again in jail. Captain Shields is satisfied that Woods had blank checks to do with the stealing of the blank checks from Lobman & Rothchild's office at the exchange. When Sivinski was first tried for the bogus checks, he was charged with the stealing of a safe from the store of Frank Woods, the supposed partner of Sivinski, is again in jail. Captain Shields is satisfied that Woods had blank checks to do with the stealing of the blank checks from Lobman & Rothchild's office at the exchange. When Sivinski was first tried for the bogus checks, he was charged with the stealing of a safe from the store of Frank Woods, the supposed partner of Sivinski, is again in jail. Captain Shields is satisfied that Woods had blank checks to do with the stealing of the blank checks from Lobman & Rothchild's office at the exchange. When Sivinski was first tried for the bogus checks, he was charged with the stealing of a safe from the store of Frank Woods, the supposed partner of Sivinski, is again in jail. Captain Shields is satisfied that Woods had blank checks to do with the stealing of the blank checks from Lobman & Rothchild's office at the exchange. When Sivinski was first tried for the bogus checks, he was charged with the stealing of a safe from the store of Frank Woods, the supposed partner of Sivinski, is again in jail. Captain Shields is satisfied that Woods had blank checks to do with the stealing of the blank checks from Lobman & Rothchild's office at the exchange. When Sivinski was first tried for the bogus checks, he was charged with the stealing of a safe from the store of Frank Woods, the supposed partner of Sivinski, is again in jail. Captain Shields is satisfied that Woods had blank checks to do with the stealing of the blank checks from Lobman & Rothchild's office at the exchange. When Sivinski was first tried for the bogus checks, he was charged with the stealing of a safe from the store of Frank Woods, the supposed partner of Sivinski, is again in jail. Captain Shields is satisfied that Woods had blank checks to do with the stealing of the blank checks from Lobman & Rothchild's office at the exchange. When Sivinski was first tried for the bogus checks, he was charged with the stealing of a safe from the store of Frank Woods, the supposed partner of Sivinski, is again in jail. Captain Shields is satisfied that Woods had blank checks to do with the stealing of the blank checks from Lobman & Rothchild's office at the exchange. When Sivinski was first tried for the bogus checks, he was charged with the stealing of a safe from the store of Frank Woods, the supposed partner of Sivinski, is again in jail. Captain Shields is satisfied that Woods had blank checks to do with the stealing of the blank checks from Lobman & Rothchild's office at the exchange. When Sivinski was first tried for the bogus checks, he was charged with the stealing of a safe from the store of Frank Woods, the supposed partner of Sivinski, is again in jail. Captain Shields is satisfied that Woods had blank checks to do with the stealing of the blank checks from Lobman & Rothchild's office at the exchange. When Sivinski was first tried for the bogus checks, he was charged with the stealing of a safe from the store of Frank Woods, the supposed partner of Sivinski, is again in jail. Captain Shields is satisfied that Woods had blank checks to do with the stealing of the blank checks from Lobman & Rothchild's office at the exchange. When Sivinski was first tried for the bogus checks, he was charged with the stealing of a safe from the store of Frank Woods, the supposed partner of Sivinski, is again in jail. Captain Shields is satisfied that Woods had blank checks to do with the stealing of the blank checks from Lobman & Rothchild's office at the exchange. When Sivinski was first tried for the bogus checks, he was charged with the stealing of a safe from the store of Frank Woods, the supposed partner of Sivinski, is again in jail. Captain Shields is satisfied that Woods had blank checks to do with the stealing of the blank checks from Lobman & Rothchild's office at the exchange. When Sivinski was first tried for the bogus checks, he was charged with the stealing of a safe from the store of Frank Woods, the supposed partner of Sivinski, is again in jail. Captain Shields is satisfied that Woods had blank checks to do with the stealing of the blank checks from Lobman & Rothchild's office at the exchange. When Sivinski was first tried for the bogus checks, he was charged with the stealing of a safe from the store of Frank Woods, the supposed partner of Sivinski, is again in jail. Captain Shields is satisfied that Woods had blank checks to do with the stealing of the blank checks from Lobman & Rothchild's office at the exchange. When Sivinski was first tried for the bogus checks, he was charged with the stealing of a safe from the store of Frank Woods, the supposed partner of Sivinski, is again in jail. Captain Shields is satisfied that Woods had blank checks to do with the stealing of the blank checks from Lobman & Rothchild's office at the exchange. When Sivinski was first tried for the bogus checks, he was charged with the stealing of a safe from the store of Frank Woods, the supposed partner of Sivinski, is again in jail. Captain Shields is satisfied that Woods had blank checks to do with the stealing of the blank checks from Lobman & Rothchild's office at the exchange. When Sivinski was first tried for the bogus checks, he was charged with the stealing of a safe from the store of Frank Woods, the supposed partner of Sivinski, is again in jail. Captain Shields is satisfied that Woods had blank checks to do with the stealing of the blank checks from Lobman & Rothchild's office at the exchange. When Sivinski was first tried for the bogus checks, he was charged with the stealing of a safe from the store of Frank Woods, the supposed partner of Sivinski, is again in jail. Captain Shields is satisfied that Woods had blank checks to do with the stealing of the blank checks from Lobman & Rothchild's office at the exchange. When Sivinski was first tried for the bogus checks, he was charged with the stealing of a safe from the store of Frank Woods, the supposed partner of Sivinski, is again in jail. Captain Shields is satisfied that Woods had blank checks to do with the stealing of the blank checks from Lobman & Rothchild's office at the exchange. When Sivinski was first tried for the bogus checks, he was charged with the stealing of a safe from the store of Frank Woods, the supposed partner of Sivinski, is again in jail. Captain Shields is satisfied that Woods had blank checks to do with the stealing of the blank checks from Lobman & Rothchild's office at the exchange. When Sivinski was first tried for the bogus checks, he was charged with the stealing of a safe from the store of Frank Woods, the supposed partner of Sivinski, is again in jail. Captain Shields is satisfied that Woods had blank checks to do with the stealing of the blank checks from Lobman & Rothchild's office at the exchange. When Sivinski was first tried for the bogus checks, he was charged with the stealing of a safe from the store of Frank Woods, the supposed partner of Sivinski, is again in jail. Captain Shields is satisfied that Woods had blank checks to do with the stealing of the blank checks from Lobman & Rothchild's office at the exchange. When Sivinski was first tried for the bogus checks, he was charged with the stealing of a safe from the store of Frank Woods, the supposed partner of Sivinski, is again in jail. Captain Shields is satisfied that Woods had blank checks to do with the stealing of the blank checks from Lobman & Rothchild's office at the exchange. When Sivinski was first tried for the bogus checks, he was charged with the stealing of a safe from the store of Frank Woods, the supposed partner of Sivinski, is again in jail. Captain Shields is satisfied that Woods had blank checks to do with the stealing of the blank checks from Lobman & Rothchild's office at the exchange. When Sivinski was first tried for the bogus checks, he was charged with the stealing of a safe from the store of Frank Woods, the supposed partner of Sivinski, is again in jail. Captain Shields is satisfied that Woods had blank checks to do with the stealing of the blank checks from Lobman & Rothchild's office at the exchange. When Sivinski was first tried for the bogus checks, he was charged with the stealing of a safe from the store of Frank Woods, the supposed partner of Sivinski, is again in jail. Captain Shields is satisfied that Woods had blank checks to do with the stealing of the blank checks from Lobman & Rothchild's office at the exchange. When Sivinski was first tried for the bogus checks, he was charged with the stealing of a safe from the store of Frank Woods, the supposed partner of Sivinski, is again in jail. Captain Shields is satisfied that Woods had blank checks to do with the stealing of the blank checks from Lobman & Rothchild's office at the exchange. When Sivinski was first